Free Astrology Class To Begin

A free class in the Fundamentals of Astrology is scheduled to begin October 15. The class, consisting of approximately eight lessons, will be taught by Mrs. Ethel Goldman in her home at 1425 Ord Grove, Seaside.

The class is only one of many being offered by the University For Man, Monterey Peninsula College's former Free University.

Mrs. Goldman states that registration for the 7:30-10:30 p.m. class will take place at her home or over the phone on or before October 15. People who are seriously interested in astrology are asked to call 394-1875 between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. for information.

Members Now Chosen By Council

The Seaside City Council, in a four to one decision, gave themselves the power to appoint members to all city boards and commissions, at last week's city council meeting. This power was formerly reserved for the mayor.

Not affected by this move would be the city's Redevelopment Agency. Members of this agency can only be picked by the mayor due to a state law regarding charter cities.

In other action the City Council postponed action on the Real Estate Disclosure Law until the question of non-conforming one-car garages is settled. As it now stands all homes in Seaside that have only a one-car garage are non-conforming to city planning commission standards.

Seaside Wins AIA Community Design Award

The City of Seaside will be presented with an outstanding Community Design Award at the 25th annual convention of the California Council of the American Institute of Architects at Yosemite, October 16.

Cited in the award are the city's urban renewal accomplishments, architectural controls, landscaping and long-range planning for future improvements.

Mayor Louis N. Haddad and City Manager Milton Farrell have been invited to Yosemite to accept the award.

Seaside Ripples

A.E. 'Andy' Barragan, Publisher

Every time that I read about inflation, unemployment, high prices and of the misery that these three man-made diseases inflict on the national economic body and on each individual human body, I have to ask myself: what role did the banks and the money-lenders play in bringing about this man-made disease? Their raises in interest rates from a low of five to six percent just a few years ago to a now unconscionable 10 to 12 percent has been the most important factor in bringing about the economic chaos that we now find ourselves in. The excuse that the "marketplace" determines the cost of any commodity, including money, is just so much "hogwash."

The government is the largest borrower and, therefore, should have some say-so in what it has to pay for money to run the country and to prosecute its ill-advised wars. But is the government allowed to set what it will pay for money? Of course not. Private banks and a private organization called the Federal Reserve Board, made up mostly of bankers or their lackeys, make the decisions as to what money will cost. They do it in violation of the spirit of anti-trust laws, too. And they raise interest rates in the face of the fact that the profits of the money-lenders have increased by 25 percent.

Maybe it's from this 25 percent profit that the United California Bank was able to let its Switzerland branch managers "lose" some 40 to 70 million in American dollars gambling on

MPUSD Is Observing Lunch Week

The Monterey Peninsula Unified School District, along with all other public schools in the United States of America will observe National School Lunch Week October 11 thru 17 and will join all other school cafeterias in serving a nation-wide menu mid-week, Wednesday, October 14.

The Wednesday menu is chicken, green peas, crisp coleslaw, home-made biscuits and butter, oatmeal raisin cookies and milk. Mrs. Adriana Behrman, director of food services for MPUSD, said there will be almost as much of a run on chicken for the special day nationally as there is for turkey on Thanksgiving Day in November.

Theme for the week is announced as "School Lunch Supports Effective Education," which points up the basic philosophy to help children.

By the end of October all but two of MPUSD's 29 schools will have school lunches served. At opening of the school year only three schools had no lunch service except milk, but pack-out lunches were brought to Manzanita School from King Jr. High School, beginning Sept. 28. Foothill School in Monterey and Los Arboles Jr. High School in Marina may have service later in the year.

Hot lunches at elementary schools cost 40c. Slightly larger portions at junior and senior high schools cost 45c. Free or reduced-price meals are available to children whose families qualify and apply confidentially through the school principal for this benefit. Adult meals are 63c including tax.

Last fall a plan to offer breakfast at some schools was initiated and is continuing this year at Ord Terrace, Highland, Noche Buena, and Covell Schools in Seaside and Marina del Mar School in Marina. For 15c children are served small portions of juice, fruit, hot or cold cereal, or bacon, eggs, hot bread or French toast and milk. About 250 children participate in the breakfast program daily.

Parents Invited

Fremont Junior High School presents Back To School Night on Thursday, October 8. The time is 7 to 9:30 p.m. All parents of Fremont students are encouraged to attend.

Pollution Will Limit L.A. Growth

A polluted air supply may limit the future expansion of Southern California to a peak of about 14 million people, a California environmental specialist warned recently.

Mark von Wodtke, assistant professor in the Department of Environmental Design at California State Polytechnic College, Pomona, contained his forecast in an article appearing in the fall issue of "Cry California," quarterly journal of the statewide environmental organization California Tomorrow.

Von Wodtke writes that despite the natural environmental constraints on human carrying capacity, state and local plans are now geared to a population of 20 million or more.

For example, he notes, "The State Water Plan is committed, at great expense to the citizens and the environment of the state, to bringing water to Southern California for these projected millions. The State Division of Highways plans to pave the way for millions of additional cars and trucks. Investors and banks, speculating on this projection, put out glittering market analyses to spur development in Southern California. The Los Angeles Department of City Planning is glibly accepting this projection in its new Concept Los Angeles study, despite its purported concern with the quality of life."

Failure to recognize the

Tax Money Distributed To Counties

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy has announced the semi-annual apportionment among counties, cities and school districts of $8,353,341 in trailer coach license fees collected during the first six months of 1970.

Monterey County's share was $95,027.00. The largest apportionment was $1,587,210 to Los Angeles County. The smallest was $147 to Alpine County.

The Vehicle License Fee law provides that the license fees paid on all trailer coaches registered in California be apportioned semi-annually to the counties on the basis of the registered addresses of the vehicles. Apportionments are made as soon as possible after the registration data is made available to the Controller by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Each County Auditor then distributes the total county apportionment equally among the county, the city (if the address is within a city) and the school districts in which each trailer is situated.

finite limitations of air, land and water resources, the author says, constitutes a "massive flaw" in these approaches to development of the region.

Von Wodtke adds that: "There is enough evidence at hand today to conclude that the air resource of the Los Angeles Basin simply will not support a population of more than about 14 million, given both present petrochemical fuel-consuming trends and present and anticipated pollution-control programs, even assuming that the optimistic pollution levels predicted by the various agencies responsible for health protection and pollution control can be achieved."

In fact, he says, according to Department of Health air pollution standards the safe carrying capacity of the Los Angeles Basin has already been passed by the current population of 11.8 million. Von Wodtke says Californians have always planned for the future on the assumption that technology will cure the ills of unchecked growth and upon a related faith in the free-market process to slow down growth when it becomes undesirable.

But the facts are, he says, that "technology has created, but not corrected, the immense environmental problems we are struggling to meet; the market has encouraged growth by yielding to the delusion of short-run gains from land development and has been impervious to continued on p. 7

Employees React to Firing

The Seaside City Employees Association and the International Firefighters Association, Local 1218 together with the Seaside Police Association issued the following statement on behalf of all their members:

"The employees of the City of Seaside are gravely concerned with a recent and unprecedented action by the Seaside City Council by which Mr. Saul Weingarten, City Attorney, was dismissed from his post without cause. Mr. Weingarten has served the City for 15 years in this capacity.

"While the Council legally enjoys at present the right to so act, the City employees question the justice of such procedures as outlined in the current Municipal Code.

"At present, the City employees are studying these matters and their implications. The City employees plan to take definitive action to prevent similar incidents in the future."

Weingarten to Be Replaced

The services of Seaside City Attorney, Saul M. Weingarten, were terminated Saturday by a four to one decision in a specially called City Council meeting.

The tenure of office for Weingarten had been a point of heated contention many times in the last five months since the election of the new city council.

At Saturday's session, the action started soon after Councilman Gerald McGrath made a motion to place Oral Communication after the time allotted for the council to decide the tenure of the City Attorney. This was seconded by Councilman Oliver Murray and passed 4 to 1.

Councilman Stephen Ross then made a motion that the City Council should terminate the services of Weingarten and award him with a certificate of appreciation for his service rendered to the community.

The matter was then placed up to discussion by the council, with Mayor Louis Haddad reading a letter from Weingarten which explained his position. Two reports from an ad hoc committee formed by Haddad had polled various people in the community as to whether Weingarten should be retained as City Attorney. Haddad stated that it was the opinion of this committee that Weingarten should be retained.

Despite objections from Haddad, McGrath called for a polling from the council on the motion made by Ross. The council's decision was four in favor of terminating tenure with Haddad casting the opposing vote.

Haddad's main concern was that with Weingarten removed from office there would be no one to represent Seaside in cases now before the courts, such as the Seaside 19 case.

The council agreed to retain Weingarten only until these cases are processed through the courts.

Donald Smith, Del Rey Oaks City Attorney, was appointed to serve in the interim until a new City Attorney could be appointed.

After the meeting Weingarten stated that he felt that certain rights guaranteed to him had been denied. "You have not given me the hearing you would have demanded for yourself," he told the council.

Political Roundup

Voter registration in California has reached a record high for the November 3 General Election. Democrats have 4,781,283 registered voters to the Republicans 3,469,046. The American Independent party has 66,936 and the Peace and Freedom party 41,663. Throughout the state, the democrats scored gains over the Republicans in new voter registration. The same was true in Monterey county where the Democrats outnumber the Republicans, although that isn't the way they usually vote. Our Congressman Burt Talcott is a Republican, Bob Wood, our assemblyman, is a Republican and our State Senator, Don Grunsky, is a Republican. In recent years, the only Democrat to hold a representative office in the state or federal level has been Fred Farr, when he was State Senator.

The County has been invaded in recent weeks by politicians of both major parties, plus Wilson Riles who is running for State Superintendent of Instruction against Max Fafferty.

Riles made a personal visit to Seaside and answered many questions from local residents. He stated that drug abuse is up over 200% in the state's schools and that "Education is deteriorating in California because Rafferty is a phoney and I don't know of any other way of saving it."

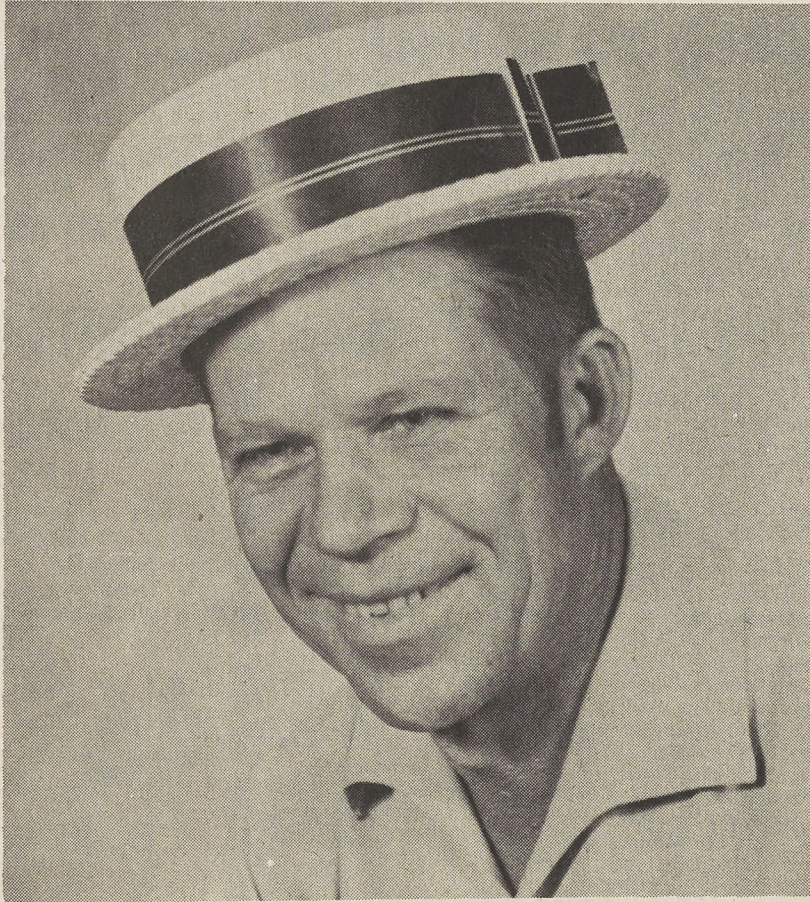

Riles further said that we can no longer finance the schools properly through the local taxpayers and the state general fund. He says other methods of financing have to be found.

Locally, in the Assembly race, we have our own city-councilman, Oliver Murray, running on the Democratic ticket against Bob Wood, incumbent Republican. In the continued on p. 7

Doctor Says Ears Should Be Protected

In an article in the September issue of "California Medicine," the monthly professional journal of the California Medical Association, Dr. Robert J. Keim, an expert in hearing research, lists some interesting conclusions on the relationship of noise to hearing loss.

An assistant professor of otolaryngology at the Los Angeles County-University of Southern California Medical Center, Dr. Keim noted that "while there has been increasing emphasis on the problem of air and water pollution, comparatively little concern has been directed toward noise pollution."

He added that if a person is exposed to steady noise at levels of 85 decibels (about the noise level generated by a food blender) or more during an eight-hour work period, this would constitute hazardous noise exposure. Levels of 95 decibels (jackhammer equivalent) require that the person use a device such as earplugs or earmuffs for protection of his hearing.

"Not many people," the doctor also states, "are aware that being close beside or behind a gun when it is discharged may cause permanent loss of hearing. Since the hearing loss associated with such exposure is of a 'nerve' type, none of the dramatic restorative operations used on conductive hearing problems can be applied in these cases. If in time this hearing loss is not restored by the recuperative powers of the individual, the impairment remains all his life."

The body is unable to protect against such noise exposure, since the time required for the middle-ear muscles to contract and dampen the noise exceeds the duration of the noise, Dr. Keim said.

CARE OF CAR

Take good care of your car, advises National Automobile Club, to prolong its useful life.

Church Names Publicity Director

Robert W. Newell of San Carlos has been named to the Christian Science Committee on Publication for Northern California.

Newell takes over the public information office that has been held for the past five years by Henry G. Curran, who requested that he not be reappointed. Curran will carry on in the Christian Science movement as an accredited Christian Science practitioner.

In his new post, Newell is the official representative of the Christian Science Church in Northern California in dealings with the press, legislators, educators and public officials. His office is at 210 Post Street, San Francisco.

In 1965 Newell left a long association with Union Oil Company in order to enter the healing ministry as a Christian Science practitioner. He has served as a Chaplain at Agnews State Hospital and as a member of the Christian Science State Committee for Institutional Work. He has also been president and director of Twelveacre, Inc., a residential school for retarded children; was vice president and a director of the Christian Science Visiting Nurse Service for San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties and has been president and First Reader of his branch church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, San Carlos.

Van Horn Speaks on Drug Abuse

On October 7, representatives of The Milestone Foundation, Inc., an organization devoted to resolving the problems of drug abuse, were guests of Fredrick Bell Jr., program chairman of the "Hil 12" Club here at Ft. Ord. The guests included: Dr. C. Winter VanHorn, Joe Askey, and Bill Leone.

The principle speaker was Dr. VanHorn, a physician practicing in Carmel Valley and an active member of the Foundation's board of directors. VanHorn stressed the broad nature of the drug abuse problem by mentioning the direct and indirect contribution of drug use to the rise in crime in the Tri-city area. This a problem of the entire community.

The Foundation, he said, would provide facilities which would allow the addict and drug user to voluntarily resolve his problem not merely for the benefit of society, but primarily for his own health and well-being. On this point, Joe Askey, a veteran of nearly twenty years of rehabilitation work and also a member of the Foundation's board of directors, expressed the opinion that men and women who abuse drugs do not do so with the intention of destroying themselves and, if given the opportunity, will help themselves.

Dr. VanHorn also mentioned the importance of the Foundation's non-governmental nature, explaining that research has shown that governmental agencies for drug rehabilitation have repeatedly failed; however, independent organizations, like Synanon, have succeeded.

It is for this reason that the Foundation must rely on the community support rather than seek government funds. Therefore, the Foundation's success or failure rests with the community. Those interested in further involvement with the Foundation were asked to contact: Bill Leone, Secretary, The Milestone Foundation, Inc., P.O. Box 201, Monterey, California.

the commodity market in cocoa. Let's try to figure how much of that money could have been used to lower the interest rate to prospective home builders. Let's figure how much the government could have saved on the bonds that it buys every day and thereby saved the taxpayers a few dollars. No, we could go on and on about the sad state of affairs as regards the banks and their high interest, but then people say "What can you do, the banks run the country?"

Well, it seems that they do. Money talks, so they say. But one guy in Monterey County isn't standing still. He's asking that something be done. That guy is William Burkett, former superintendent of banks for the State of California. He's asking for an investigation on the United California Bank and how it allowed its people in Switzerland to blow all of the 40 to 70 million dollars on cocoa. He's asking Dwight Patman, chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, to investigate the possibility of gross negligence by the executive officers and members of the Los Angeles-based United California Bank for not maintaining stricter administrative supervision and audit controls over its Swiss subsidiary--the United California Bank, based in Basel.

Well, I wish Mr. Barkett luck in his request for an investigation and I am sure that Congressman Patman would probably be glad to start such an investigation, but I don't give the investigation much hope of success because the Banking and Currency Committee in Congress is "loaded" with congressmen who are friends with the banks and have held back all other such inquiries of the operations of the country's banks. Isn't this a pretty sad state of affairs. Have you ever asked yourself how come the banks apy a paltry four or five percent on your little savings and then can lend out that money at 10 to 12 percent. When you ask a banker how come the low interest on savings they tell you that the law doesn't allow any more. But the law does allow the high interest rates on loans and charge accounts. How come the bank is always so strict in its control of your little loan account that when you are a few days late with your payment, it has the man out to your house to either get the money or the purchase. Somehow the little guy doesn't seem to have a chance with the banks any more.

I hope that the call for an investigation by Burkett of this particular bank will be broadened into a full-scale investigation of the entire banking industry in this sad time of inflation, high-prices and unemployment. Maybe we will find some answers.

Who Cares

by Mel Vercoe

Could squirrels help save mankind? Squirrels are rodents. So are rats, beavers, mice and lemmings. People are not rodents, but, by dictionary definition, people are sometimes rats.

People have studied people for a long time and in at least one field of desperate need--population control--our researchers have come up against a blank wall. We are quite simply going to phase ourselves out of existence by wars, pestilence and starvation unless we can either stop sex or regulate the results.

Lemmings are like people when it comes to sex. They multiply so fast they go berserk every few years when they get in each other's way. In their blind haste to get away from where they are, they just start travelling. In Norway, for example, they don't get far before they have to cross a lake, a river or the ocean, and while they don't deliberately commit suicide, this is what it amounts to.

People, like lemmings, are not going to intentionally commit suicide en masse, but overpopulation will nevertheless achieve this result, which might be very desirable for the earth's environment, but would be embarrassing for the only life species that is supposed to be able to think.

Squirrels, unlike lemmings, have some kind of a built-in control that keeps their population at an acceptable level. Whatever the nature of this control, whether psychological or by common sense or by body chemistry reaction, it might be something that would work on people if we could find out what it is.

Researchers here on the Monterey Peninsula, under the direction of Dr. Lowell Adams, are making a study of squirrel habits in an effort to learn this secret.

Dr. Adams will be reporting the results of his findings to the United Nations. Hopefully other researchers are working just as diligently on this problem as are Dr. Adams and his team.

Mankind is just now entering the really dangerous stage of mass berserkness. Already we are in effect beginning mass suicide as a species with our pollution carelessness, our drug intake (adults and young alike), our senseless headlong flight into world conflicts that will undoubtedly develop into nuclear wars and an almost worldwide refusal to put survival on a par with monetary profit.

In terms of sheer numbers of lives at stake, the secret of how squirrels control their population could be more important than a cure for cancer--more important, in fact, than all other research of every kind added together, if this control could be applied to humans.

U.S. consumers are currently spending about 2.5% of their disposable income for dairy foods, as compared to 4.5% in the late 1940's.

New bonus interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds

Now all U. S. Savings Bonds pay 5% interest, PLUS a ½% bonus when held to maturity. This overall 5½% interest payment means that now you get a little bit more money for your money.

Technically, here's how the bonus works:

1. The bonus interest rate applies to all new Bonds purchased since June 1, 1970, raising their rate from 5% to 5½% when held to maturity. Series E Bonds, whose maturity remains at 5 years 10 months, with a first-year rate of 4%, will have the ½% increase added as a bonus at maturity. Series H Bonds, with a 10-year maturity and first-year rate of 4½%, will receive the bonus in the form of increased semiannual interest checks for their last 5 years, to yield an average 5½% for the 10-year period.

2. There is no reason to cash in Bonds you now hold. Yields on outstanding Bonds, prior to maturity, will be increased by ½% for semiannual interest periods beginning on or after June 1, 1970. For E Bonds, the increase will be payable at maturity; for H Bonds, through larger semi-annual interest checks for their last 5 years.

3. For Bonds now in their extension period, yields will be increased by approximately ½% to next maturity, whenever redeemed.

4. Finally, all Bonds maturing on or after June 1, 1970 while the bonus is in effect, will receive a 5½% yield until next maturity.

Now, more than ever, it's to your advantage to buy U. S. Savings Bonds and hold them to maturity or beyond.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.

Letter to Editor

Editor:

On the back of the banner which the Peace and Freedom Party carried in the Seaside Independence Day Parade was the following which should be of interest to Seaside residents: Delection in the Declaration by Congress "He has waged cruel war against human nature itself, violating its most sacred rights of life and liberty in the persons of a distant people who never offended him, captivating and carrying them into slavery in another hemisphere, or to incur miserable death in their transportation thither, this piratical warfare, the opprobrium of INFIDEL POWERS, is the WARFARE of the CHRISTIAN King of Great Britain." -- Thomas Jefferson

Jefferson's Notes: "the clause reprobating the enslaving of the inhabitants of Africa was struck out, in complaisance to South Carolina and Georgia, -- our Northern bretheren also I believe felt a little tender under these censures; - they had been pretty considerable carriers of them to others."

We the people demand our true History.

This deletion, together with Jefferson's later remarks as to why the deletion has been made, emphasizes that our Declaration of Independence has never really come into its own in the United States. There is a second American Revolution brewing and the reason it is, is the same reason that the City of Seaside arrested some of us (white, middle class and comfortable) for carrying that banner. Those who don't know how close our country is to open civil war are simply closing their eyes to what is going on among the youth and the minorities. Reagan and Nixon and associates have almost a monopoly of the Nation's news media but they do not speak for a very very angry one-third of the nation. (As always, one-third or more is indifferent and couldn't care less what happens. The so-called silent majority is silent because it has nothing to say.) We who marched are the bearers of bad news, not its cause. We were arrested for saying, in effect, that there are going to have to be some big changes made -- AND FAST. Incidentally, Betty Mann is mistaken; we have no connection with SDS. Also, it is slanderous and pure fabrication to imply, as the Police Chief did, that the Peace and Freedom Party planned violence at the Parade.

Very truly yours,

What It Is And What It Isn't

COMMUNITY HAPPENINGS: Chamberlin Library

The Chamberlin Library, located on Fort Ord, is the first the army has built of this kind. It was opened March 21, 1970.

The reading material is varied, with a large selection of military books. A great variety of books are on hobbies, such as arts and crafts. Many books are devoted to fiction mystery stories. These are the most popular. Daily newspapers, periodicals, magazines and several encyclopedias are available. There is also a large and complete children's section. There are about 24,000 volumes in the library. About 200 of these are new.

Located in the rear of the library are six record booths containing records of different types of music.

The friendly librarians, who are always ready to serve you, make for an enjoyable visit to this well-designed, well-stocked, attractive and comfortable library. All factors considered, it is a pleasant and enjoyable place to spend a rainy day reading.

Changed Atmosphere in Library

Today's Seaside High Library is a changed place. No longer a social center with chess sets and checkers, the library is now a quiet study area. This change has been strictly enforced by Mrs. Hodgen, who seems to have eyes in the back of her head for violators of this new policy.

Mr. Bowman, the head librarian, believes the library always had the study policy, but was not enforced. When Mrs. Hodgen was asked about the change in library policy, her response was in contrast to Mr. Bowman's. She states last year the library really had no policy and was too permissive.

Student Council

Another year in the Seaside High student council and as usual the sophomores didn't know how to act. They acted as though they were still in junior high. Main problem in the student council was the disorder. Like most people in office, once they are elected, they wish they had never applied for office in the first place.

Ed Zurawski, ASB president, started the meeting with the usual pounding of his mallet, to call the council to order, which he never got.

Every question directed to him was handed over to Mr. Wright who wasn't much help because most of his answers were either to form a committee or to check with the administration.

After repeatedly trying to get order, Ed continued the meeting with the room in a blaze of loud noise.

Not much or anything was accomplished. Questions kept coming and time was running out, yet few of the questions were being answered.

The meeting came to a boisterous close with little order at all. The student council's first meeting was the worst anyone could possibly have.

Brewers See Victory In Litter War

A spokesman for the brewing industry this week expressed confidence that the nation's war against litter is showing encouraging results.

George W. Ososke, executive vice president of the California Brewers Association, said that massive anti-litter campaigns being conducted by industries, organizations and individuals, plus reclamation and recycling programs offered by can and bottle manufacturers as well as by individual brewing companies, are responsible for stemming the tide of roadside litter.

Industry sources, Ososke said, estimate that historically 97 percent of beverage bottles and cans have found their way into proper disposal channels.

"The remaining 3 percent," he said, "comprise the litter culprit which is now being attacked by the educational campaigns and reclamation programs."

Ososke said that the brewing industry is intensifying an 8-point anti-litter program that was adopted in 1967.

The success of the brewers' program, he said, led Keep America Beautiful to present its annual business award to the United States Brewers Association in 1968, and last year the California association was the recipient of Los Angeles Beautiful's first-ever anti-litter award.

He also notes that in addirace for Congressman Burt

ning on the Democratic ticket.

a real grass-roots campaign able, long-range constraints."

and is hitting all of the local areas. He has made a appearances in Seaside on many occasions and is a real liberal candidate. He has gained much support locally in Seaside.
Jess Unruh, Democratic candidate for Governor against Ronald Reagan, faces an uphill battle all of the way in spite of the preponderance of Democratic voters in the state. Regan is obviously well-financed and some of Unruh's Democratic "fat-cats" have defected to Regan. Jess seems to have made too many enemies when he "dumped" governor Pat Brown in the last election. I know that many of Brown's former supporters are now supporting Regan.

State Senator Alfred Al-quist is making a good race against Lt. Governor Ed Rieneke, although Alquist can't take too many shots at Reineke. He shoots instead at Reagan's campaign, where he has a bigger target. Alquist is from San Jose and has a good record in the legislature. He also faces a hard battle; Reineke is well liked throughout the state and will be hard to unseat.

One of the most interesting races is for Secretary of State where the Democrats have Edmund Brown, Jr., son of former Governor Brown, pitted against James Flournoy, whom the Republican's picked to run. Flournoy is a black Conservative. He was in Monterey recently where he spoke at the Mark Thomas Inn to the Republican women. We were not able to cover the event, but our reports are that he is really conservative. This office is open since former Secretary of State Frank Jordan died in office.

Another close race is the race for Attorney General.
Charles O'Brien, the Democrat in the race for the seat which is being vacated by Tom Lynch, is challenged by Ev-velle Younger of Los Angeles.
Younger, who has a well-financed campaign has been accused by O'Brien of using campaign funds from contributors in exchange for favors from his office as Los Angeles District Attorney O'Brien, probably, of all of the Democrats in the election, has the best chance of being elected.

Vatican Bans Jazz Masses

The Vatican banned all jazz churches after much contro-

A Vatican-released docu-

The action came two years after Roman Catholic church leaders rebuked jazz at mass

Grooving Around The Peninsula
with Betty Mann

Hi There Fellow Peninsulans:
Happenings last week were: the terrible forest fire at Los Laureles Grade, and Corral De Tierra, which was one of the worst holocausts I've ever seen. As a member of the press, I was permitted to go to the scene of one of the fires that was threatening some of the lovely expensive homes in the Corral De Tierra area. It was a pathetic sight watching this terrible fire racing across the beautiful hills and countryside, destroying all of Mother Nature's magnificent landscaping and trees that will take another generation to grow back. It was also very sad watching the fear and anxiety on the faces of the homeowners, who were evacuating their homes and taking what few possessions they could carry. Some, after evacuating their children and pets, stayed behind and watered down the roofs and sides of their homes. In the nearby pastures, the livestock, sensing disaster in the air, were standing quietly in huddles with their young beside them just waiting seemingly to panic.

There were fire fighting planes which cost $600 for each trip, to spray the fires along with fire engines galore. There were hippies, members of motorcycle clubs, and many more young boys riding on the back of the truck to help the firefighters fight this terrible fire.

Other Happenings: The Black Caucus meeting of the NAACP, which was held at the Dutch Motor Lodge. There were representatives from all over California at this meeting. The convention was named a "Call to Conscience" which I'm sure you read about in the local news media. It was primarily held to discuss the bigoted school systems that exist in our beloved state of California, many of these are unknown to the public. The subject of busing was discussed and it seems that the same injustices that exist in schools of the South are being practiced here, but under a different name and setup. Seems like the State of California is in the process of being sued for some of these terrible injustices by the NAACP. Host and Hostesses from this area for the delegates were: Dr. Henry Hutchins and Mrs. Charlie Knight. Cocktails and a barbecue dinner were given at the home of Mrs. Knight in Carmel in honor of some of the guests who were personal friends of Charlie and Hank.

Other doings around town were: Wilson Riles came back to town, this time to Seaside instead of Pebble Beach. (smiles) Seems like the last time he was here he insulted some of his Black Brothers by his "Oreo" cookie type attitude, you dig, like Brown on the outside and white on the inside. Seems like Wilson was greeted at the airport by a gathering of Pebble Beach folks and a group of Seaside black folks, who happened to be some of our most distinguished and educated Black representatives from this area.

Wilson debarked from the plane, and headed straight to the Pebble Beach folks (I guess they've got the money, but he forgets we'll give him the most votes) (smiles). After exchanging warm embraces with all the Pebble Beach ladies, he finally discovers the Black welcoming party who are standing there waiting to greet this onetime descendant of a galley slave. He walks over and extends his hand for a hand shake, (not a warm embrace, mind you) to the Black females, whom he had met on previous occasions. It seems that he also couldn't quite remember the distinguished Black PhD school personality who was also there to greet him and who has also been in his company on recent occasions when he was here on the peninsula. The Black group was so disgusted by this (I won't write what they called him) (smile) attitude toward his own people, they all turned and left and continued on p. 9

Project to Study Smog

California has been selected for a unique federal-state research project to determine the relationship between air pollution and highway design and location, Governor Ronald Reagan announced recently. The study, the most comprehensive of its type in the nation, will be conducted by the California State Department of Public Works, assisted by the State Air Resources Board, Financial and technical support will come from the Federal Highway Administration and the National Air Pollution Control Administration.

"For the first time we will be able to gather information on the location and design of freeways that can be matched with facts on smog emissions," the governor said. "I am pleased that California, which is the recognized leader in the fight against air pollution, has this opportunity to establish another pattern for the nation to follow in its fight for clean air."

The research project was first proposed by Director of Public Works James A. Moe to federal highway officials in January and received the endorsement of the California Environmental Quality Study Council.

The study will cost approximately $700,000 with $400,000 of the amount to be made available over a three-year period by the Federal Highway Administration. Additional support in manpower, instrumentation and funds will be provided by the National Air Pollution Control Association, the governor said.

The smog research project will be coordinated with the state's Los Angeles Freeway Surveillance and Control Project along a 42-mile loop of freeway in the central Los Angeles area.

Lucky Breweries, Inc., San Francisco, has named D. Parke Gibson Associates, Inc. as public relations counsel in the brewery's campaign to introduce Lucky Malt Liquor in the Los Angeles and San Francisco bay area Negro markets, according to Bert T. Casey, public relations manager.

Lucky Breweries, which has produced and sold more beer in the West over the last 30 years than any other West Coast brewer, will have an active marketing program to reach black consumers in the two major California markets in addition to the Gibson counsel and services. This will be part of an overall marketing strategy for the new product's introduction.

'Schooling For What?'
Published

"Schooling For What?" has just been published by McGraw-Hill Book Company, at a price of $7.95. The author is Big Sur resident, Dr. Donald H. Parker, who says the question which is the book's title sent him across the nation on a 33,000 mile trek.

"I ended up with personal, private tape-recorded interviews with 1,000 persons of all ages, from every walk of life, representing as accurately as possible 200 million Americans in our various ethnic groups and lifestyles -- all zeroing in on the question, Schooling For What?" says Dr. Parker.

The book deals with schooling, the hippie subculture, student radicalism, racial and generation gaps, and the proliferation of new lifestyles.

later in the parking lot of the airport, a few of this group were so disgruntled they didn't hesitate to rip off "Wilson Riles for Supt. of Education" bumper stickers. So after reading in the local news media that Wilson was coming to Seaside to speak I was not surprised; at least he recognized his goof. But I'm still voting for him, even if he happens to represent an oreo cookie (smiles); he is by far considered the best man for this office of education in the state of California. He is receiving great support from the big people, as well as the little people, in all groups and nationalities, that leads to winning at the polls in November.

Other happenings around town were: Arab Week, which ended in a big dinner at the Elks Club in Monterey. (you know the one where black folks are taboo) (smiles) I wanted to go and hear our Seaside Mayor Haddad, (who I believe is a member of the Elks) who also happens to be Arab-American, speak, but, being "Gifted and Black", I decided not to go. I wonder if any other black people felt daring and attended? If I can't join a set because I'm the wrong color, (smile) I sure don't want to force myself where I'm not wanted and I certainly wouldn't eat there even though they say the Elks serve the best prime rib in town. (smile)

Until next week
Betty

Majority Of U.S. Public Favors a Military Pullout By End Of Next Year

An end to troop involvement in Vietnam by the end of 1971, in accordance with the Hatfield-McGovern plan, is favored by a majority of those recently asked their opinion in a Gallup Poll.

The sample of public opinion was taken September 11-14. On September 1, the Hatfield-McGovern plan was rejected in the Senate by a vote of 55-39.

When the vote of the women is considered, the scales are tipped heavily in favor of troop withdrawal. Men of the nation appear to be evenly divided in their opinion on the subject.

The poll shows Democrats now favor withdrawal by a ratio of 61 percent to 29 percent.

Republicans polled were almost evenly divided. Democrats in the Senate voted in favor of the plan by a 3 to 2 ratio.

The best-educated group in the poll were almost evenly divided.

In this poll, a total of 1,513 adults were interviewed, in more than 300 cities, towns and rural areas of the nation.

This question was asked: "A proposal has been made in Congress to require the United States Government to bring home all United States troops before the end of next year. Would you like to have your Congressman vote for or against this proposal?"

Men were 55 percent for, 36 percent against and 9 percent holding no opinion.

Women were 46 percent for, 45 percent against, with 9 percent holding no opinion. Republicans were 48 percent for, 43 percent against, with 9 percent holding no opinion.

Democrats were 61 percent for, 29 percent against, with 10 percent in the no-opinion category.

Independents polled were 53 percent for, 39 percent against, with 8 percent in the no-opinion column.

In the west, 51 percent were for, 44 percent against and 5 percent having no opinion.

In the south, 49 percent were for, 38 percent against and 13 percent having no opinion.

In the midwest, 56 percent were for, 35 percent against, and 9 percent had no opinion.

In the east, 62 percent were in favor, 29 percent against, and 9 percent had no opinion.

Those who had college education were 47 percent for, 45 percent against, with 8 percent expressing no opinion.

Those with high school education were 57 percent in favor, 35 percent against, with 8 percent expressing no opinion.

Those having grade-school education were 61 percent in favor and 27 percent opposed, with 12 percent expressing no opinion.

In the 21-29 year age-group, 63 percent were for, 32 percent opposed and 5 percent holding no opinion.

In the 30-49 category, 52 percent were for, 39 against, and 9 percent with no opinion.

The 50-and-over age-group were 55 percent for, 34 percent opposed and 11 percent holding no opinion.

Festival Films Named

The 1970 San Francisco International Film Festival announces two highly-acclaimed motion pictures to be presented as entries in the 14th annual cinema event, which begins on the night of Wednesday, October 21, at the Festival's new home - - the Palace of Fine Arts Theatre. The announcement was made by Albert Johnson, program director of the San Francisco Film Festival. "Les Choses de la Vie" (The Things of Life), the highly acclaimed French drama, and "Investigation of a Private Citizen" have been selected to be shown as night features during the Festival. Both film are being released by Colombia Pictures.

Having already won France's top film award, the coveted Prix Delluc, "Les Choses de la Vie" was the official French entry in the 1970 Cannes Film Festival. The second Columbia motion picture added to the San Francisco Film Festival program, "Investigation of a Private Citizen," won the Special Jury Prize at the 1970 Cannes Festival, and proved a popular hit with the international press covering the festival.

18-Year-Old Vote Urged By Kennedy

Last Thursday in the federal district court in Washington, D.C., Senator Edward M. Kennedy (D, Massachusetts) argued his first court case in nine years.

He presented the case for the constitutionality of the new 18-year-old vote law before a three-judge panel composed of Chief Judge David L. Bazelon and District Judges William B. Bryant and George E. MacKinnon.

Senator Kennedy initiated the 18-year-old-vote proposal in Congress, resulting in a provision in the voting acts amendments of 1970 that bars states from denying the vote, on the basis of age, to persons who are 18 or older.

The statute, which became law on June 22, was challenged in court on June 23 in New York and similar challenges have been taken direct to the Supreme Court by the United States, Texas and Oregon.

In his argument last week, Senator Kennedy insisted that the law is constitutional and asked the court to uphold it.

He said that since the 18, 19 and 20 year olds are considered old enough to be employed, taxed, married and drafted, denying them their vote is "invidious discrimination."

The Supreme Court has now scheduled hearings for Monday, October 19, on four cases brought directly before it by Oregon, Texas and the United States, which involve essentially the same issues as were brought up in last week's Washington case.

On September 10 the NAACP filed a friend-of-the-court brief in the Supreme Court, arguing that Congress, under its national defense powers, has the right to enact the statute lowering the voting age to 18 years.

The brief cites Article I, Section 8 of the Constitution which defines the "war powers" of Congress, pointing out that resistance by young persons to war and military service, as manifested by bombings, riots, desertions and draft evasion, could be interpreted by Congress as impeding the national defense effort.

"Much of their disaffection in influenced by the fact that they are called upon to implement national policies which they cannot affect through the democratic processes of political participation," the brief continues.
